

Seeking An Ideal Model for Healthcare For Discussion Purposes

February 10, 2004
New Delhi

Presented at the Forum of Federations conference on Decentralization of Health Care Delivery in India – New Delhi
Feb. 8 to 10, 2004

Coverage

- Introduction
 - Vision and Objectives
 - Current Perspectives and Issues
 - Perspectives from other countries
-

Introduction

- Healthcare – not the whole of health
 - Valuable lessons and priceless opportunities
 - Diverse settings –Distinct strategies
 - Imperative for reform
 - Challenges in the current system
 - Healthcare – link with economy
-

Vision and Objectives

- Changed, Charged and Confident India
 - Challenging health needs
 - Vision – ‘To foster a healthy society through provision of quality health care services to all citizens’
 - ‘Creating an affordable and efficient health care system, balancing preventive and curative measures and establishing an enduring public-private partnership’
-

Current Perspectives

- Healthcare strategies for transition
 - Growing gap in funding
 - Under-productive public healthcare system
 - Rapid epidemiological transition
 - Inequity of access to healthcare
 - An active, eager and growing private sector
 - Escalating Healthcare expenditure
-

Lessons

- Reforms and experiences from other countries
 - Success stories within India and scaling up
-